Happy birthday cake pictures

Home Recipes Cooking Style Baking Kids will find this colorful cake irresistible! It's a piece of cake to put together if you use a cake mix to bake a round cake and a dozen cupcakes. To serve, first spend the cupcakes and then cut what's left. —Taste of Home Test Kitchen1 package yellow cake mix (normal size)1 cup sweetened grated coconut, distributedGele, blue, green and red dye1 can (16 ounces) vanilla glaze, dividedAssorted candies (red shoestring drop, mini peanut butter cups and Skittles)Miniature semi-sweet chocolate chipsForberee cake batter according to package directions. Fill 12 foil or paper-lined muffin cups two thirds full. Pour the remaining batter into a greased 9-in. round frying pan. Bake cake and cupcakes according to the directions of the packaging. Cool in panning for 10 minutes before removing to wire racks to cool completely. Put 1/2 cup coconut in a plastic bag; sprinkle five to six drops of yellow food coloring in bag. Shake until the color is evenly distributed. Repeat with 1/4 cup coconut and blue colors, then with the remaining coconut and green color. In a small bowl, tint 2 tablespoons glaze red; Reserved. Frost round cake and 11 cupcakes with remaining frosting; place round cake on a large platter or covered shelf (about 22 in. x 15 in.). Form a face and hair using peanut butter cups for eyes and drop for mouth, eyebrows and hair. Remove lining of the remaining cupcake and cut the top. Cut the top in half and press into the sides of the cake for the ears. Frost the lower portion of cupcake with reserved red frosting and press into place in front of the nose. Decorate three cupcakes with Skittles; arrange on dish in the shape of a bow tie. Add chocolate chip freckles. Remove linings from three cupcakes if desired and cut in half; sprinkle with green coconut. Press flat sides against the top of the cake to form a hat. Sprinkle four cupcakes with yellow coconut and one with blue coconut; Pile in a pyramid on top of the rim to form the hat. Erase the base of the cake, but make sure you've indicated where you want it to start and end. Then put a small dot of each paint on one side of the cake. Try to reach your colors all the way to the side. I didn't and had to add colors at the end (which didn't work very well.) Take the popsicle stick and, using the edge, smear the paint over the paper. If the paint is not evenly distributed repeat this a few times until you get the look you want. Then do the same with the candle on the cake. Before the fire I cheated by mixing an orange, but you could use the smear technique with this as well. Let this dry before proceeding. Usually, our 50th anniversary party at Indianapolis Raceway Park will be remembered for the hellish heat. You would have thought someone would have warned us that it was hot in Indiana at the end of July. But it will also be remembered for the action, which was constant and intense and significantly added to the hellish heat. In one corner of IRP was a huge autocross, with 1000 1000 drive manufacturer delivered cars ranging from Mini Coopers to Dodge Vipers. There was bracket racing on the drag strip, at one point pitting a 1982 Cadillac Coupe de Ville with a NASCAR engine against a 1957 BMW Isetta 300 small enough to serve as the Caddy's dinghy. Then there was a small competition that ran the peculiar gamut from a 100-point '63 Corvette split-window coupe to a 1997 Suzuki Tracker with taped pinstripes. There were speeches-four or five, all graciously short-plus a rock'n'roll band, the movie The Cannonball Run, and Q-and-As with the withering editors: Reader: Mr. Yates, how much did you make on this Cannonball dingamabobby? Yates: Who let him in? Reader: Mr. Bedard, that's the most famous Plymouth Hemi model ever? Bedard: I was told there would be no math. And there were readers who made rides around IRP's oval in a Porsche Carrera GT and a McLaren F1 GTR and a Mercedes SLR McLaren. In fact, the SLR was meant to be an immobile display, but when an organizer innocently asked who was driving around to the thing, tech editor Aaron Robinson replied, Oh, I think I could give it a shot. His first ride-along victim was reader Steve Cage, who not only owns a Shelby GT350 Eleanor movie car, but also 60 other refurbished muscle cars. Gee, we went fast, recalled a naïve Cage. Then Aaron missed a turn and we were in the grass. I didn't expect that. Was that part of the ride? (Check these pages to see if Mercedes gives us any more test cars.) Then an episode of Pinks was recorded on the drag strip, pitting an old Mustang against an old Camaro, neither was driven by Rupert from Survivor, who came for unclear reasons. Then managing editor Steve Spence-who was voted most likely to crash into the timing cab during his autocross efforts-place outdrove 45 or so contestants, until, as he put it, a full-figured and aggressive woman hit me hugely with a 31.4-second time, which inspired the grinning TV guys to rush over in the hope of recording my embarrassment. What do you think about being beaten by a girl? a crew-cut cameraman asked him. I assure you, Spence replied, that wasn't a girl. The 39-year-old Philip Heacock from Louisville, Kentucky, ran only two laps saturday (in a Mustang GT) and two laps on Sunday (in a Honda S2000) and still won the autocross overall. He only autocrosses once a year. There's a lesson there. Call if you know what it is. On Saturday we were on the track for 16 hours. If you missed the party, we're planning a repeat in 2055. Spence says he's not coming unless that autocross woman stays home. The winners Bracket Racing 1. Angelo Taylor Kokomo, Indiana 2. Peter Schwarzbach Chicago, Illinois3. I fell in love with making it after my grandmother shared the recipe with me. This cake is super fast, easy and fun to make! Definitely recommend this for the first time bakers and anyone who likes a bite out of a delicious chocolate Texas sheet cake. This is a favorite for children's parties. Serve with fruit or decorate with Butter Cream Frosting. It's hard to find scratch strawberry cakes, so this one is worth weighting in gold for me as a caterer. I made this cake for a children's party. It was a big hit! Frost with cream cheese or vanilla glaze - or for a treat, use a chocolate glaze! I've had this recipe for years. My kids always chose their birthday cake over all the others, and it makes enough for a crowd. Moist and delicious. Very easy to make. Enjoy! A family favourite - great for the Christmas holidays. A secret ingredient of sour cream makes this cake so moist, dense and delicious! I use this recipe for my kids' birthdays, but it's a favorite for wedding cakes, too! This recipe can be easily doubled. This is a delicious red velvet cake recipe that was taught to me by my grandmother. Made with a light and buttery glaze instead of the usual cream cheese. It's a bit time consuming, but totally worth it! This recipe has been in my family for a very long time. My great-grandmother can make this with her eyes closed. My dad was born on her birthday, so she made this cake for him every year. Even shipped to him in Korea when he was stationed there in the army. This is an old recipe I have for a white cake, and it tastes very good. The word 'dobos' means 'like a drum' in Hungarian. However, this cake is named after its creator, Hungarian pastry chef Josef Dobos. This simple cake works perfectly during the holidays, on a buffet table or in a picnic basket! And you won't believe the aroma that comes out of your oven while baking! The alcohol bakes off and leaves only the taste. It is very humid and has been a favorite birthday request in our house for over 20 years! This cake is good to make a day ahead, and is very popular with pot-lucks. Custard buttercream (German buttercream) is a very rich buttercream glaze made with the addition of custard. You change it by adding different flavors or spirits. This is my basic tried and tested recipe for decorating cakes and cupcakes. Makes enough buttercream for a 3 to 4 layer cake or 24 cupcakes. This is a delicious and easy blueberry pie to make with things that are usually at hand. My grandmother passed this on to me, and now I'm making with my children. A beautiful moist coconut cake perfect for birthday parties. Walnuts and pecans are interchangeable in this recipe. Based on the Hungarian Dobos torte (pronounced do-bash), this cake was in New Orleans and is now a staple throughout Louisiana. It is my husband's all-time favorite and has become a birthday tradition. I got this recipe from an old Southern cook, a copy of a copy of a typed-up sheet from long ago, annotated with her notes (including the word oleo instead of margarine). I've never had another chocolate cake recipe like it, which instructs the cook to heat some of the cake batter on the stove, and pour the cooked icing over a hot cake. The result is a wonderfully rich (but surprisingly light) chocolate leaf cake topped with a boiled chocolate and pecan glaze. This cake has an incredible homemade flavor, but is waterproof! Will you forget Duncan Hines® Great coconut cake with an old-fashioned taste. The richest, reddest... most coveted cake in my area... So easy to make... beautiful to serve! A friend of mine couldn't decide between banana cream cake and cheesecake for her birthday, so I came up with this rich and creamy concoction. The vanilla cream topping takes a little extra time to make, but it really completes the dessert! This is not so common of a cake, but it is definitely good. Birthdays, Easter, baby showers, or just because they are cute and taste good! Got this recipe from a friend and I have to share ... Enjoy! There are many ways to be creative in making this... There are dozens of different types of sprinkles, or you use different colors candy melts and no sprinkles if you wish. Almost anything can be purchased from a craft store. The classic red cake with a white chocolate cream cheese glaze. A dense pound cake with three flavors--vanilla, orange and almond. Almond.
